

ComponentOne® Studio Enterprise 2006

The Most Comprehensive Suite of Visual Components for .NET, ASP.NET, Mobile and ActiveX Available Anywhere

Simplify, Leverage, and Extend Your Visual Studio 2005 Development Experience

ComponentOne Studio Enterprise 2006 is the largest and most complete component toolset for developing all layers of Windows, Web, and Mobile applications. Studio Enterprise is exclusively engineered for Visual Studio 2005, and includes 28 products that support the new features available with Visual Studio 2005. It extends the power of this revolutionary new development environment at not only the presentation layer, but also all layers of application development including the data, reporting, and transformation layers.

Developer Productivity Benefits

Simplify Your Design-Time Experience:

ComponentOne Chart for .NET and True DBGrid for .NET both include unique designers and wizards allowing you to visually access complex functionality and quickly integrate the features into your applications. The new designers reduce the time needed to learn component object models and allow you to focus on application development, putting the power of the components at your fingertips.

Extend the Power of Microsoft Visual Studio 2005:

The new products included in Studio Enterprise have been engineered exclusively for .NET 2.0, and extend the power of Visual Studio 2005 by providing you with unique features and functionality not available with the in-the-box tools.

- ComponentOne ADO.NET DataExtender™: An extension for ADO.NET 2.0 that simplifies data modeling and programming for Windows Forms applications.
- ComponentOne Preview™ for .NET: A completely re-engineered version allowing you to add sophisticated printing and print preview capabilities to Windows Forms applications. This new version provides you with an enhanced object model, a more robust and modular design, improved performance, and more.
- ComponentOne WebMenus and WebBars™ for ASP.NET: A new version of the existing suite of user-interface and navigational tools. This new version adds new C1WebTreeView and C1WebTabStrip components, new AJAX support, plus other enhancements improving the design-time experience.

Leverage the Unique New Features:

With Studio Enterprise you can easily integrate with new Visual Studio 2005 Windows Forms features including Smart Tags, Snap Lines, data binding, GDI+ text, and Managed Themes. The new .NET 2.0 Web Forms components fully support ASP.NET 2.0 features including Smart Tags, data binding, resourced-based scripts and images, and ASP.NET 2.0 Themes.

Optimized for

Studio Enterprise is a complete solution simplifying software development, management, and it provides you with an unmatched value for your Visual Studio 2005 needs.
